held October 22 at which abutters were heard. The Board of Selectmen based their decision on their opinion that such a li-

CONSUMER AID PROPOSED

The Board of Selectmen received a No-

Consumer Council Commission of Massachusetts. He expressed the hope that the Board of Selectmen will be able to recommend responsible persons in Mattapoisett who might wish to become consumer aids. These aids would learn how to deal with consumer problems under a program funded by the H.E.W. They would assist residents in coping with daily consumer problems. Mr.
Gitlin advised that he will be forwarding applications in the near future for the initial training session which will be limited to 25 persons.

TOWN SEAL USE OK'D

On the cover we have the birds eye view. Above the closeup of Main Street at the top of the wharf. The old Bay View Hotel is now the Mattapoissett Inn and the exterior remains very familiar. The hitching posts of granite are gone and the dirt roadbed is covered but otherwise you could step back into the past and be right at home.

Old-fashioned country-style desserts certainly had picturesque names! Like "slumps" and "grunts" and "buckles." All fruited desserts, each was quite distinctive. Grunts are made of rich biscuit dough which is dropped, dumpling-style over stewed fruit, then covered tightly and steamed. Slumps are dumplings of baking powder biscuit dough dropped on the fruit which is cooked on top of the range. Buckles are more like coffeecakes, being made from cake batter over which the fruits are scattered, then topped with spiced crumbs.

This is perfect to serve your family on a cold winter evening. Try it!

COLONIAL BLUEBERRY BUCKLE

- 3/4 cup unsifted flour
- 1-1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/3 cup unsifted flour
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 2 tablespoons Blue Bonnet Margarine
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) Blue Bonnet Margarine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/3 cup milk
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 cups fresh blueberries or 1 can (15-ounce) blueberries, well drained

Sift together 3/4 cup flour, baking powder and salt; set aside.

Combine 1/3 cup flour, 2 tablespoons sugar and cinnamon in a small bowl. Cut in 2 tablespoons Blue Bonnet Margarine until mixture resembles coarse meal; set aside.

In a small mixer bowl cream remaining 1/4 cup Blue Bonnet Margarine and remaining 1/2 cup sugar until mixture is light and fluffy. Add egg; beat well. ## GLIMPSE AT GLASS

Sandwich is more than something for lunch.

It's a type of early American glassware that sings with color and glitters with light, one of this country's great heritages like the Brooklyn Dodgers, silent movies and the Model T.

Sandwich glass derives its unusual name from the Boston & Sandwich Glass Co. in Sandwich, Mass., where it was produced from 1825 to 1888 in the glass industry's first hand-pressing operation. The intricate designs and lacy loveliness of Sandwich glass, coupled with New England practicality, made it a favorite of 19th century households.

It was in 1825 that the Boston & Sandwich Glass Co. began to create Sandwich glass at its factory in the Cape Cod community of Sandwich. The company banked its fires for good in 1888 during a labor dispute, and after 63 years of production Sandwich had become a household word throughout New England and America. After 1888 Sandwich soon disappeared from practical table use and began to appear on collector's shelves; Sandwich lost its original, specific meaning and the word came to be used generically to denote a lacy, frilly design.

The variety and multitude of designs and patterns that gave Sandwich its popularity and uniqueness were created in three-piece molds in a hand-pressed operation. Up to the introduction of hand-pressing, glass was blown, making it an expensive commodity not everyone could afford. Sufficient amounts of technological skill and natural resources came together in Massachusetts, however, to produce glassware by forcing liquid-hot sand into iron molds.

introducing the BEE-utiful BANK.

There are lots of nice things we could say about ourselves.

Like unexcelled. Or unequalled. Maybe unsurpassed. Or even unmatched.

And, happy to say, lots of folks who bank with us would agree. They've long since discovered what real convenience and real service are when it comes time to bank.

But, honestly now, we'd rather let them do our talking for us. Let them say the beautiful things.

Of course, we'd like you to find out for yourself what makes us BEE-utiful. And then you could say BEE-utiful things, too.

PRE-SCHOOL GYM & SWIM

The New Bedford YMCA will be starting a new Tot Gym & Swim Program on Wednesday, December 4. The program is for boys and girls from 18 months to 5 1/2 years old. The gym segment offers an opportunity for your child to improve basic co-ordination and broaden his or her field of interest. Using the YMCA movement exploration concept, each child is allowed to progress at his or her own rate using tumbling mats, trampoline and various other props. The swim program deals with a wide spectrum of swimming phases from first introduction to polishing swimming technique.

A TIME FOR REMEMBERING

Christmas: a time for remembering, loving, giving and sadness. Mrs. Mary Junier, a friend, a charter member of the Mattapoisett Seniors Club, had been called by the Lord, and departed in early October.

I never saw Mary when she was not smiling, smiling with her eyes and the eyes mirror the soul. Mary was a mother, grandmother and great grandmother. She had known pain, sickness and tragedy, but she bore her burden and smiled, and she shall be missed at this Holiday season, by her family and friends.

You will never be forgotten Mary Junier, because you had something precious. A smile but it's not worth anything unless you give it, and you smiled always, and I appreciated it.

To The People of Mattapoisett:

There is no time more fitting, than at Thanksgiving, to express my very deep gratitude to the people of Mattapoisett for their overwhelming vote of confidence in me in the recent election for State Senator. You have my firm pledge to be a responsive and responsible voice in the Senate, and available to you for any service that I might be able to render as your State Senator.

I should like to express my thanks to the hardworking committee that made this task so enjoyable and successful. ## Donations Needed for Recycling

The Mattapoisett Recycling Committee has come a long way towards having a town recycling center. Over the past year many things have been done to establish this goal: receiving companies have been lined up to handle the recycled paper and white glass, the A & P Co. has approved their parking lot as a site for the center, the O.R.R. vocational education class has agreed to build "vandal-resistant" containers for the material, the committee has received the approval and backing of the Selectmen, Board of Health, Conservation Commission, Mattapoisett Land Trust, League of Women Voters, Mattapoisett Woman's Club, Republican Committee and many citizens, and we have received donations of $100. from the LWV and Woman's Club.

After all that work it is finally your turn - the citizens of Mattapoisett - to do your share. The only thing we need to complete the goal is $1.00 from you. Right now, while you're thinking about what a worthwhile project this is, about the convenience of taking your recycled materials to the A & P parking lot, about all the time and energy others have spent to get the center this far, about doing something worthwhile and positive for the environment, which needs all the help it can get; right now send your dollar to: Matta-

Y. W. C. A. Events

As a result of special study regarding the policy of pool programs for pre-school children, the Board of Directors of the New Bedford YWCA has established certain changes in its pre-school swimming classes, and approved the recommendation of the Program Services Committee that the minimum age for participating in organized swimming instruction be three years.

At the request of the Program Services Committee a special Task Force was appointed to study the practice of offering swimming classes for "water babies" in view of the fact that formal instruction for children under three years of age is not approved by the National YWCA, the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Pediatrics, and the Council for National Cooperation in Aquatics. The Task Force consisted of Mrs. Anthony W. Karalekas, Mrs. Edward G. Lund, Mrs.

Toddler Workshop classes will join for a Christmas Party on Thursday, December 12.

Among exciting projects being worked on at the Y are activities to help immigrants adjust to and enjoy life in our country and community. Anyone interested in working on this project is invited to attend a Special Task Force meeting Monday, December 2, at 7:30 P.M., with Dyan Kieltyka, YWCA Board Member, chairman, and hear more about plans for this program.

On Thursday, December 5, at 7:00 P.M. a YWCA member has offered to be here to teach YWCA members a few steps such as Hully
Gully, Amos Moses or the Strawberry Patch.
If you have been wishing you knew how to do line dancing and enjoy the party fun with the crowd here is a good opportunity to learn.

Letter to the Editor

I was most unhappy to see the article in your November 20 issue concerning the zoning violation by Wilson Harding. I feel that laws should be applied uniformly and that if Mr. Harding is to be notified of his violation of the zoning laws, others in the area and throughout Matta-poisett should be notified of violations of the leash laws.

While I do not own a dog, my lawn is so violated by neighborhood dogs that I of unwanted visits from these dogs.

My wife was recently home ill and she was afraid to walk down the street to visit a friend because of threatening area dogs.

This is a problem throughout Mattapoisett, as I have seen dogs roaming throughout other parts of town as well as my own

Other Mattapoisett residents have com-complaints to the police. The situation only

Again I would like to ask why the laws to threaten neighborhood children and vio-

STUDDS OUTLINES FISH

PACKAGE FOR 94th CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, D.C., NOVEMBER 18 -- Rep. Gerry E. Studds, D-Mass., today predicted that "1975 could well be the Year of the Fisherman in the United States".

The 12th District Congressman, who filed the Studds-Magnuson 200-mile fish bill during the early months of the 93rd Congress, said, "all signs point to a new awareness in both the Congress and the Administration of the desperate plight of our domestic fishing industry.

"If we are to reverse the years of neglect that have surrounded this valuable industry, the 94th Congress which opens in January of 1975, may be our last chance," Studds said in a statement from his Washington office.

"Never before in our history has such attention been focused on the problems facing our domestic fishermen. And never before in history have we won such strong nationwide support for immediate and meaningful change to benefit this long neglected industry."

Studds was the main speaker Saturday night at the opening banquet of Fish Expo 1974 in Norfolk, Virginia. Studds briefed the more than 500 fishermen and industry representatives on the status of the Studds-Magnuson 200-mile fish bill and the Congressman's plans for continuing the battle to win passage for this legislation.

"If Studds-Magnuson does not pass this year -- and the chances of that at this point are slim -- then I intend to reintroduce the 200-mile bill on the first day of the 94th Congress. I also intend to introduce a series of measures early in the new session to correct a number of problems which now face the fishing industry," Studds added.

Among the bills being considered by Studds are legislation to:

-- Put 100 percent of all import duties on imported fish and all fines for fisheries violations into a marine fisheries conservation development fund to be used to provide conservation programs.

-- Expand the Pelly Amendment to allow the President to embargo imports other than fish from countries which are violating international fish conservation rules.

-- Replenish and add to the money in the fisheries loan fund so that fishing vessel owners will have an available source of capital at reasonable interest rates to finance the continuation and modernization of vessels and equipment.

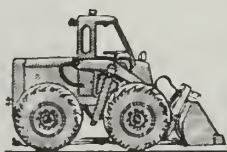

-- Lower tariffs on imported fishing gear, nets, and electronic equipment, to lower the cost to the fishermen.

-- Reform vessel and P&I insurance to reduce the cost of this coverage to the fishermen.

"These are just a few of the areas I have been working on," Studds told the representatives to the Fish Expo.

"I also intend to continue my efforts with the Ford Administration, particularly the President himself and the Departments of Defense and State, to win acceptance of the immediate establishment of a fish conservation zone off our shores.

"I will continue these meetings and this open dialogue with the Administration. President Ford has personally assured me that he will take another look at the whole question of our domestic fisheries with what the President called 'an open mind'.

"This is very encouraging," Studds concluded. "If we are to help our fishermen while we still have fish left in our offshore waters we must have the attention of the Administration and the continued support of the fishing industry and the Congress."

Educational Opportunities

TEN SCHOOL COOPERATIVE

"Southeastern Massachusetts' high drop-out rate, the region's low overall educational attainment, and high number of non-English speakers has made it necessary for a plan of action to increase opportunities in the field of post-secondary education."

So reports Mr. David Sullivan of Southeastern Massachusetts University and director of the Regional Educational Opportunity Center. EOC is apparently a first step toward solving some of the educational problems that have bothered the Southeastern Massachusetts area for years. Based at Southeastern Massachusetts University, the program was formed in cooperation with nine other area schools: Bristol Community College, Cape Cod Community College, Massachusetts Community College, Bridgewater State College, Massachusetts Maritime Academy, Dean Junior College, Stonehill College, Swain School of Design, and Wheaton College. Collectively the ten school cooperative is known as "SACHEM".

The purpose of the EOC program is to coordinate resources for expanding post-secondary educational opportunities and to make this information readily available. According to Sullivan, other program efforts of this type have been largely confined to individual schools. "EOC plans to become the clearing house for post-secondary educational opportunities and educational counseling for adults within the Southeastern Massachusetts region," he added.

May and June marked the initial organizational period of the program, which resumed in September under a state grant from the Executive Office of Educational Affairs. Sullivan reported an outreach to 521 people seeking educational information. Seventy-one students were placed in post-secondary programs in one or more of the ten schools involved.

The types of program placement during the past summer were varied: Many of the students are attending classes in preparation for a high school equivalency diploma (GED). Others were placed in professional, commercial, and liberal arts courses offered by the member institutions.

For the most part the initial clients of EOC have been welfare recipients. "One of the main problems with the welfare system," said Ms. Sylvia Mitchell, EOC Coordinator, "is that there is little incentive for the recipient to get a job. Most people are able to get more money per week through welfare than they would at regular employment in a depressed job market. EOC will link people to opportunities for education and training which will make them competitive in the job market."

Another attraction of the EOC program is helping students identify supportive services, such as day care, provided by the local welfare offices and other community social service agencies.

The task of finding out who is eligible and can benefit by EOC is done through the various existing agencies. Among others the New Bedford Predelinquent Program, Neighborhood Youth Corps program, Fall River NAACP Brotherhood Center, and New Bedford and Fall River Poverty Programs are cooperating with EOC in providing the most help to the most people.

After the client has become part of the program, his individual needs, desires and previous background are evaluated. Later, a plan will be developed for him to reach his educational goal. All this is accomplished by the recruiter, the counselor, and other persons working within EOC.

Sullivan says he's "very optimistic" about the future of EOC. "I only hope we can assist those who need this service in taking full advantage of the available opportunities as well as increasing the range of post-secondary programs offered in our region."

This SACHEM program expands the already impressive number of Special Student Programs sponsored by SMU and under the general supervision of Mr. Sullivan. "The University is attempting to meet the educational needs of our area across a broad spectrum", reports Sullivan. Included among the current

BiCentennial Posters

Young people throughout Plymouth County will be eligible to win over $500 worth of U.S. Savings Bonds by participating in a Bicentennial Poster Contest sponsored by the Plymouth County Development Council.

Details of the competition were recently announced by the County Commissioners. Children in grades 1-6 are eligible.

The theme is "350 years of history....in our own backyard".

Each community in Plymouth County has a wealth of historic lore. This contest is designed to encourage children to discover and explore the rich heritage of their own community...to better appreciate the efforts and accomplishments of our forefathers.

As subject matter, the children are encouraged to select some historical attribute of their community...an historic site or event...a famous citizen or historic legend.

In addition to pictorial matter, each poster design should include the name of the community.

Winners from each school in three categories 1 - 2nd grades; 3 - 4th grades; and 5 - 6th grades) will be awarded certificates of merit and have their posters entered in final compe-
